EXPERIENCE NEW THINGS & CHANGE THE WORLD

The Jewish Education Project is proudly supporting nine, new summer programs for Jewish high school students. From specialty programs focused on surfing and the arts, to social action projects and international travel opportunities, there's a perfect experience for every Jewish teen. Teens who sign up in the next three weeks will receive $100 off their registration.* New York area teens can choose from the following featured experiences in summer 2016:

- ARTEL Teen Fellowship. Explore Israel with teens from Russian-speaking families, through the lens of Israel's contributions to the arts and technology.
- DOROT Summer Teen Internship Program. Bring joy to the lives of seniors in this highly selective internship, through intergenerational programming, such as documentary film making and cultural field trips.
- InternNYC. Jump start a career in NYC with a selective and supported internship program that combines on-site work in a field of interest, full group activities, and professional mentoring.
- J-TAG Fellows. Travel with Israeli peers during a month long leadership development and service adventure in both Israel and the US.
- Sababa Surf Camp. Spend a week on the beach and in the waves. Challenge yourself with a new skill and experience a week of no worries.
- Costa Rica for the Curious. Spend two weeks learning about social entrepreneurship while mixing fun and service.
- JAM: Judaism - Action - Mitzvot. Learn how to make long term change by performing hands-on service and exploring the root causes of societal issues.
- Just Act NYC. Learn how to use improv as a tool for social change. Perform with other teens who share a passion for acting, social justice, and exploring New York City.
- PopUp for Change. Use design thinking to transform urban spaces into vibrant pop-up restaurants, fashion boutiques, or maker spaces to make real change in the world.
